MARLETTE COMMUNITY SCHOOL
Marlette, Michigan

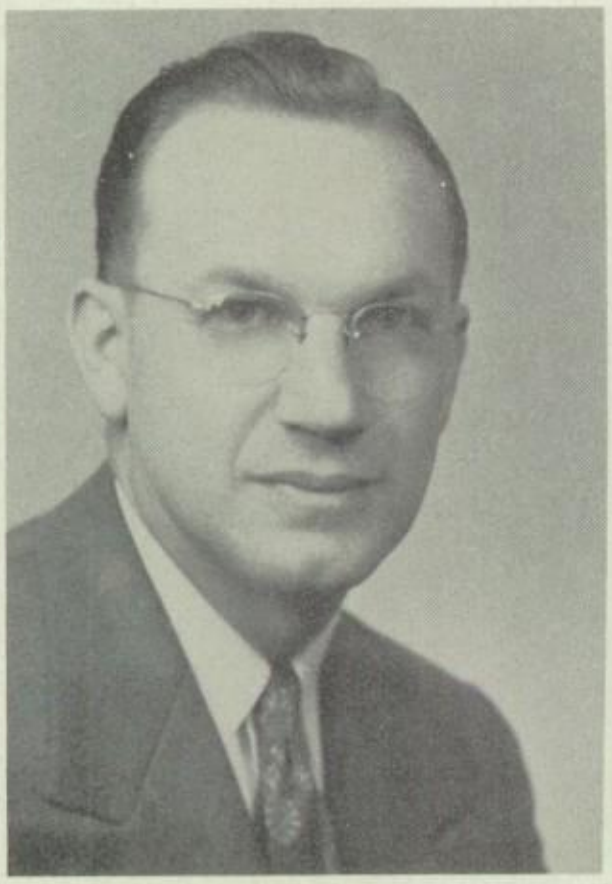
Marlette Community School

The Marlette Community School reorganization was voted in 1935 and the present building was completed in 1937. Wm. McCrea, Emil Gisch, Irven Callender, Harold Doyle, and James Dale were the first Board of Education. At that time the enrollment was 500 with 20 teachers. At present there are over 900 students with 33 full-time and 3 part time teachers.

Board of Education

William McCrea, president; Kenneth Redmond, treasurer; George Teale; Alfred G. Amundsen, superintendent; Charles Wood, secretary; Robert Willis.

President McCrea has been a member of the Board since before its organization in 1935. Mr. Willis is a new member this year while Mr. Teale, Mr. Wood, and Mr. Redmond have been giving their services for a longer time.



Walter Nickel

Mr. Nickel has been a very ambitious hard-working principal since coming in 1942. His quiet judgment is always evident in decisions.

Alfred G. Amundsen

Mr. Amundsen came to our school as superintendent in 1948 from the State Department. He has been working in a fine way for the school.

Lionel Gibb

Mr. Gibb was named grade principal upon the resignation of Mr. Jensen at the beginning of the school year. He also teaches history.

Administration

Helen Richmond

Mrs. Richmond is general bookkeeper and secretary for Mr. Nickel.

Jimmie Wood

Mrs. Wood is the private secretary for Superintendent Amundsen.

Doris Walker

Miss Walker is the receptionist for the superintendent's main office.

In 1938 the class of "51" started off in a slow blue and white freight train, with approximately 45 passengers aboard. The train slowly proceeded to climb the Mountain of Knowledge, to reach its goal at the end of thirteen years.

One experience which will never be forgotten by any of the passengers, was when a fellow chum decided to depart by leaping out a window. The group traveled through the grades with many other exciting episodes and soon found themselves at the half-way mark in the sixth grade.

Finding the present means of transportation to the peak of the mountain too slow, the passengers transfered to a faster moving passenger liner. The eighth grade was ended by a memorable trip to the Edison Institute, Green Field Village, and the Royal Oak Zoo. None of the passengers were left behind at the last stop.

Again trains were changed for the final portion of the journey. This time to the modern "Train of Tomorrow," which was equipped with a diesel engine to speed the climbers on their way. The engineer for the Freshman year was Bob Kukovich, with Anne Keys as top assistant, Pat Williams taking down the notes, and Tom Piper handling the financies. The extensive Freshman Initiation was survived by the majority of the travelers.

The new engineer of the sophomore year was Ron Chrzanowski. Leona Gerber acted as chief helper, Janet Lowers did the writing and Royce Pawloski kept the books intact. It was then our turn at handing out the surprises of the initiation. Oh Boy!! what fun. The first money making scheme of the group was the V.L.W. Hop, which was a comparatively hugh sucess.

As juniors, Don Jackett was chosen to guide the train upward. Bettie Holland was second engineer, Barbara Benedict watched the minutes go by, and Jack Diegel wrote the many checks. The Junior Play, "It's a Date", was presented with much enthusium and received with great applause. The next money making project was the annual J-Hop which was not as successful as it could have been. About this time the train load discovered money as well as time was fleeting. Respect was shown to the earlier knowledge climbers by the presentation of Jr.-Sr. Banquet. Pretty good ham, huh! An outstanding event of the year was the thrill of receiving the class rings. Remember all the shining pride that flashed around.

At this point the travelers started out on the last mile in the bright blue and white diesel, with a red rose insignia. The elected crew was Carlyle Hager at the throttle, Anne Keys blowing the whistle, Janet Lowers recording the journey, and Lois Ann Innes counting pennies. During the last three years the very able guides were Porters James Tuck and Sheldon Mills.

Some of the high lights of the Senior year were the Senior Prom, joyous but expensive, the play, Jr.-Sr. Banquet, the Honorable Senior Tea. Last but not least came the Senior Trip to Washington D.C., which will be remembered by all. The passengers were very weary after the annual event of skip day. The train slowly pulled to a stop at the terminal where roll was called and 22 of the original passengers were still aboard. They were Barbara Benedict, Leona Gerber, Elna Jean Gerstenberger, Vera Jean Hewitt, Bob Kukovich, Lois Ann Innes, Carl Miller, Lois Howard, Anne Keyes, Loanne Scholtz, Bruce Morrice, Beverly Mulholland, Roger Sparling, Margie Weaver, Nancy Wilson, Rachel Williamson, Royce Pawloski, Prudence Smith, Lloyd Hoist, Ann Wilcox, and Harvey Nelson.

Blue robes set off with red roses were donned for the Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremonies. Receiving their certificates of knowledge all left the beloved train to go on to higher ambitions.

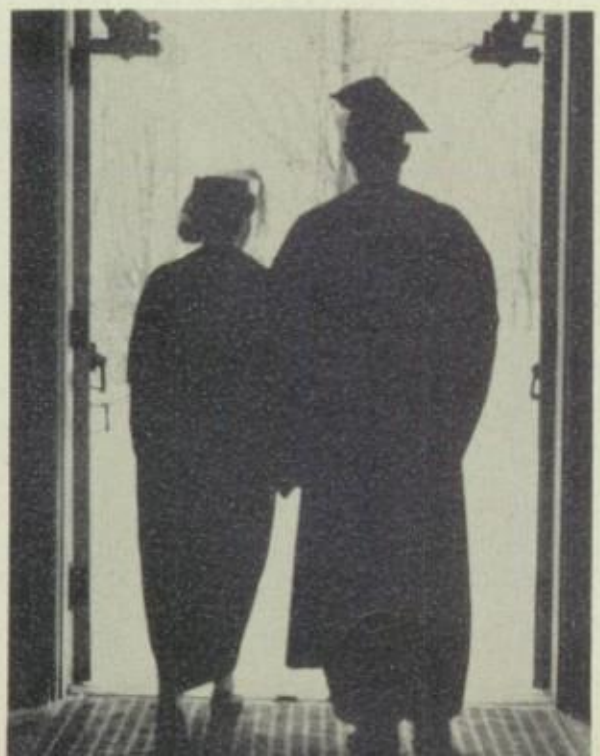
Congratulations

Graduates of 1951



Here, we express our appreciation for the opportunities that have been ours to serve you through your high school years. Your school day memories will be kept the brighter for the photographs in this year-book.

So too, may we remind you that many other of life's important occasions are best permanently recorded by a studio portrait.

To continue to serve you whenever the opportunity is presented will be our pleas-ure.

PARADE

Next Monday, Tuesday nd Wednesday, grades ven to eleven wil nning around in to see if th k is on str their hair bed just right. The girls, of course, will do most of the running, and to think one man is the cause of it all. It's Mr. Bloss, of course. He will be here to take individual pictures for the annual.

So come on, boys and girls, let's slick up and look real pretty for the birdie.

The chatterbox staff would greatly appreciate it if the Grade teachers woul try to have their new ready by Monday noo e latest.

YOU!

We are sorry to hea that Miss Flan and Mrs. Slack ar of school becau illness. We hope and recover y are m
